Origins and Context of the Falling Man

The Photograph’s Background

The falling man refers to a photograph taken during the September 11, 2001 terrorist attacks on the World Trade Center in New York City. The image captures an unidentified man falling from the North Tower, moments before impact. The photograph was shot by renowned photojournalist Richard Drew for the Associated Press and has since become one of the most poignant visual representations of that tragic day.

The Event Depicted

During the chaos of the September 11 attacks, many individuals trapped in the Towers faced an impossible choice: stay and perish in the flames or leap to their deaths in desperation. The falling man is believed to be one of these individuals who chose to jump rather than burn alive.
