Introduction to the Tavistock Institute

Founded in 1947 in London, the Tavistock Institute of Human Relations originated as a nonprofit organization dedicated to applying social science to organizational development, community work, and social policy. Over the decades, the Tavistock Institute expanded its scope to include studies on social systems, group dynamics, and mass psychology. Its influence grew in various fields, including government, military, education, and corporate sectors. While many recognize it as a legitimate think tank promoting social betterment, conspiracy theories have emerged, suggesting that the institute secretly manipulates society to serve hidden agendas.
