A Historical Perspective

Special education's history is marked by a progression from

The Shift Toward Inclusion

Today, the predominant philosophy emphasizes inclusion—educating students with exceptionalities alongside their peers in general education classrooms whenever possible. The Individuals with Disabilities Education Act (IDEA)

At the core of current special education practices is IDEA, first enacted in 1975 and reauthorized multiple times, most recently as IDEA 2004. This law mandates: - The provision of FAPE - Development of Individualized Education Programs (IEPs) - Least restrictive environment (LRE) placement principles - Procedural safeguards for parents and students IDEA emphasizes a collaborative approach involving educators, families, and students to tailor educational experiences.

Other Influential Policies

- Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act (1973): Protects students from discrimination and ensures accommodations in school. - The Every Student Succeeds Act (ESSA, 2015): Promotes accountability and supports diverse learners. - State-specific regulations: Many states have additional policies to support implementation of federal laws.
